

Craig Seelig Joins CargoWise as Product Manager Customs and Government Compliance – Americas

Chicago, IL, USA, March 2, 2010 — CargoWise®, a globally recognized technology supplier for logistics service providers, has tapped Craig Seelig as Product Manager for Customs and Government Compliance in the Americas. In this new role Mr. Seelig is responsible for all customs brokerage and compliance products for the North American market.

Mr. Seelig has more than 20 years of combined experience in the customs and freight forwarding software industries. Prior to joining CargoWise, he was Vice President Information Systems, Americas, for Barthco/OHL and had a particular focus on customs system. He previously worked with Theta Systems/Freightek, a U.S.-based software provider for customs and freight forwarding applications.

Richard White, CEO of CargoWise, in making the announcement, said: “Craig’s vast experience speaks for itself, and will add a great new dimension to our customs and compliance operation in North America. We are very pleased to have him join CargoWise and look forward to the hands-on approach he will bring to further enhance our brokerage product for our customers in North America.”

“I am very excited to join the CargoWise team,” said Mr. Seelig. “I am looking forward to bringing my U.S. customs expertise into the Company and helping to take the brokerage product to the next level. I will be working directly with clients to implement and improve the brokerage offerings of CargoWise in North America. ediEnterprise is a state-of-the-art system and I hope to make it even better.”
